

The correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, writing from China, gives a thrilling account of the capture of the Pecho Fort by the English and French. After stating that the English steamer Cormorant, Captain Sumner, was ordered to open the battle, he writes as follows:

"As soon as the Cormorant steamed up against the bawser, it poured like a length of packbread, and gave the signal of battle to the forts. Their earthen sides at once belched forth iron and flame, tearing the warship in scores of places and bulging the adhering steamer upon her port side.

"'Come down at your guns,' cried the infuriated Sumner. And at the command every man cast himself flat upon the steam-er's deck and allowed the iron shower to pass on its way. He, himself, however, crossed impatiently the elevated poop like the brave man he is, directed the men at the guns, examined the forts through his glass, and listened for any half along the forecable. At last, who also walked along the forecable, the iron shower was succeeded by a second and a third—finally the discharge was almost continuous. Still the steamer moved steadily ahead as a sleeping volcano. At length we heard a faint abreast of the fifth fort where at the same instant we notice a signal coming from the mast-head of the gunboat of the two admirals. It is the 'parting of the hair' of the allies; the emblem of their defeat, they longed for signal for the bursting of the volcano. Successive and dense volumes of smoke, now burst from the sides of the arrested steamer, envelope her in a surging cloud, and hide from view her furious work- ing of the guns which succeed. The rapid and heavy discharges were followed by clouds of flames and followed by clouds of dust and signs of disorder in the fort, till plainly evident, however, of the work of death that is under way.

"The bombardment is now general, and has lasted for an hour or more. Still, the Chinese hang bravely by their guns, urged to courage by their mandarins; who, strange to say, are, not, in this case, the first to run.—Some hold our course must therefore be re-ported to, for many of the steamers have been already killed. There it goes! Another fluttering signal from the gun-boats of the allies. That signal means—'Away there, steamer, and scale the forts.' One would think that it was written in large letters, instead of being indicated by flags, so quickly it is obeyed. A hundred boats are suddenly urged toward the river's side, and eighteen hurried men leap in the mud and clamber up the broken banks. Then, with levelled bayonets and heavy tramp they press forward their winning embusures. The foe can stand no longer. Even the Mantchou Tartar shrinks before such a threatning front of advancing steel, and deserts his guns for a tumultuous flight. So long as the allies are in the middle of the river he could have the danger of the exploding shells, but as soon as they reached him he turned back with their bristling front of bayoneted rifles. A quickman—he takes up the carried light. The whole 10,000 re- treat. In vain the brave old mandarin (something that they have never done before) tries themselves in their way; blows curs, entreaties are no longer of any avail. Fear has overcome authority; discipline is at an end, and victory declares for the allies after a struggle of 2 hours 50 minutes."

The writer adds, that on the very day of the battle, Mr. Reed, the American Minister to the treaty, had gone on shore to have signed a treaty which and his condition are have been arranged previously. Though we may say that "the battle of the Pecho" had resulted in anything but benefit to us.

Excitement.

A man arriving from Pontiac yesterday afternoon, bringing intelligence that a fugitive had been arrested in that city by a Southerner, who much desired to bring him to the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad. The train on which it was expected that they would arrive was due at about 1 o'clock, and at that time a large crowd of colored people assembled at the depot, armed and equipped for a valiant fight and rescue. If any unlucky Southerner had arrived at that precise mo- ment, he could undoubtedly have been blown into small atoms, if blowing could effect such an event. As it was, the extra wind was ex- pended for nothing, as no Southerner and no fugitive slave were found upon the cars at the arrival of the train. The sable individuals were much disposed to bring him on, immed- iately made vigorous demonstrations thereat. Some wags, who appreciated a good joke, huried into the depot at this juncture, and informed the crowd that the parties of whom they were in search had got off at the junction, three miles out, and were waiting there to take the train for To- ledo. The valiant corps instantly rushed out of doors, and, the last that was seen of them, the whole body were streaking it up the rail- road track at a good speed, coat tails stick- ing out straight, and heels invisible for duck- tail. Of three fit ones broke down on the first car, and six cups of vomit, were left behind. It was surmised that the rest by the time three miles were accom- plished. The affair was intensely funny.

New York Money Market.

The New York Post says that a house of that city has taken over a million of Messrs. Böhmers & Sons $200,000 of the public loan through private hands, but this morning another party have sold out their full amount at an advance on the original rate. The New Fives are held at a low yield, yield a premium of 10¢ per cent 44 per cent per annum, and is the cheapest government issue on market.

The New York Commercial commenting on the last weekly statement of the banks of that city says:

The large increase in loans has rather taken the public by surprise, and is probably the result of the public sales and some heavy private transactions of last week. We have seen receipts the week of the four corresponding to the maximum of the year, the discount line reaching a maximum point, $122,077,252, and the movement of the foreign contraction which immediately followed, by the closing line was a maximum weeks to the minimum of $4,918,500. This average contraction of nearly $117,158,752 of the extreme point of $179,995,752.

DISTRESSING DROUGHT.—A gentleman from Essex, one of the most reliable in the country, represents to the Petersburg Express, a rather alarming state of things, as existing in that section. In some parts of the county, especially near Coman's Well, they have not seen without rain for weeks, and the effect upon the corn crop is truly lamentable. In the same way, the informant, in the case in the vicinity of Cabinet Point, Surry.

In many places we regret to hear that the farmers despairing of gathering an amount of corn that will repay for the trouble, have cut down the stalks in the hope of making fodder. In other places, even though the most dreadful rains were now to fall, not more than half the usual quantity could be realized. The garden vegetables have also withered beneath the rays of the sun, and never failing streams have ceased to run, leaving their beds dry and parched. In many neighborhoods, the wells are fast falling, and many enterprising men apprehensions that man and beast will suffer for water, unless speedily relieved.

The Richmond correspondent of the Express says the drought has become a matter of serious consideration, and gloomy anticipations are indulged in by the agricultural community in the environs of Richmond. Accounts from the country inform us that the streams have dried up, and the people experience much difficulty in getting their corn ground into meal. The steam corn mill of Mr. Wm. N. Bragg, at Millers' Depot, Carolina, has been closed, and many enterprising facilities the inhabitants for twenty miles around. The water power had failed, and many families were for weeks without meal. The informant says that they had to resort to potatoes to supply the lack of bread.

The Blue Ridge Republican says:—Two men, named Tyson and Powell, have been committed to your jail, charged with breaking into the house of Mr. Smith, at "Happabuck City," in this county, and stealing between two hundred and fifty and three hundred dollars.

FREIGHT TRADE.—On yesterday there was received at the Depot of the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad, in this city, twenty loaded cars, from the West, with produce, consisting of 3,216 bushels of Wheat; 84 barrels of Flour; 23,150 pounds of Tobacco; 57,000 pound Miscellaneous, and 15 loaded cars were sent West.—Lynchburg Virginian.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—The valuable farm, adjoining to Benjamin T. Hodges, Esq., called "Portland Hills," near this place, containing 206½ acres, was sold at public sale yesterday. The farm and the growing crops cost $20,000, and were purchased by John Hodges, Jr., esq.

THE NEW STEAMER GEORGE WELLS, is receiving the finishing touch, and in a few days will be put upon the line between Baltimore and the Patuxent river. She is named after the George Wells, out of respect to one of the oldest pilots of steam navigation in this State, and who was for nearly his entire life, was prominently identified with its interests. Such has been the many improvements introduced in the construction and equipment of this steamer, that she looks upon as the handsomest and most complete vessel of the kind in our waters. The George Wells will commence running regularly during the present week, making from eighteen to twenty landings on the Patuxent, and running up as far as Hill's Landing; a distance of 135 miles, which the boat will certainly do in seven hours.—Chandler's Ad.

LOCAL ITEMS.

AFFAIRS OF THE C. AND O. CANAL.—The Board of Directors of the Canal held their next meeting, commencing on Friday, the 6th instant, and closing late on Tuesday evening, at Berkeley Springs, Va. They were met there by a number of gentlemen from New York city, and Cumberland, Md., concerned in coal mining and the navigation of the canal, with the object of consummating the arrangement for a loan of $100,000 to the canal company wherewith to complete Dams Nos. 4 and 5, as we have heretofore stated. The result was that the said arrangements were fully consummated and the necessary contracts entered into and signed. By these the money will be forthcoming, and not as it is wanted for the said structures, the loaning parties receiving in lieu permits of the nature of receipts for tolls during the year 1859. These terms appear to be judicious and liberal, and it is now claimed that the future of the canal, to all human appearance, is rid of the only great cloud which menaced its fortunes. The work at dam No. 4 is going on steadily and successfully forward; the work at dam No. 5, which had been suspended for lack of funds, will be immediately resumed. The September meeting of the Board will also be held at Berkeley Springs. —Nat. Int.

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY OF VIRGINIA.—PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.—This Department, attached to the Theological Seminary of Virginia, was established three years ago, and having been found successful to the full extent of the experiment, is now being re-organized, under yet more favorable auspices. The object of it is to prepare for the study of theology, those, who from age, or any other cause, have been and are unable to resort to a college for the training necessary to the successful prosecution of a divinity course. In it all such persons, coming duly recommended for piety and adequate talents, will receive gratuitous instruction in the Languages, Mathematics, and Natural and Moral Philosophy. That instruction will be imparted by a gentleman of scholarship employed for the purpose, aided by the three professors of the Seminary. The students of this Department will lodge in a building by themselves, but will board at the Seminary rectory.

Should any person under this preparatory training, require pecuniary assistance in maintaining themselves, it may be obtained of the Education Society of the Diocese, on proper certificates of religious character, competent talents and actual need.

The annual term of this institution commences at the same time with the Theological Seminary, namely, on the fourth Thursday in September. —South. Churchman.

SUICIDE.—About eight o'clock this morning, Mr. T. A. F. Toddschneider, small beer manufacturer on Maryland avenue, Capitol Hill, committed suicide by hanging himself on a beam in the upper story of an old stable near his premises. When found, his life was extinct, though he had been absent from his family so short a time, that it was ascertained, the rope by which he was suspended was secured in the hope that life might be still remaining. The cause of the act is attributable to the worst result of drinking habits, viz: mania-potus. —Washington yesterday afternoon.

SALE.—The brick dwelling on the West side of the new Custom House, will be offered for sale this evening at 5 o'clock. The purchaser is required to remove it forthwith.

ERRATA.—In the local item in yesterday's Gazette, "On 'Change," Rye was quoted at 180 instead of 80, and flour at $4 50 instead of $5 50; and in the item on the fire insurance should have been an insurance.

PERUANO GUANO FERTILIZER.—FLUID BRAND GUANO.—This fertilizer has only been introduced into use by the farmers in this country, within a very short time, but all who have used it pronounce it very valuable, possessing qualities far superior to those of Peruvian. By analysis it is found to contain of ammonia 9.30 per cent, bone phosphate of lime 3.26, bone phosphate of magnesia 3.30, potash 2.74, Soda 74.15. Mr. Campbell Moritt, at distinguished the Guano from Peru, thus describes it: "The Guano from 'Elide Island,' near the Gulf of Callao, resembles in general character the Peruvian guano, but has a distinctive feature in its greater uniformity of composition. While its proportion of ammonia falls several per cent below the average quantity in Peruvian guano, it contains a higher percentage of phosphoric acid. This difference in the two guanos brings about that desirable relation between these prime components of the Elide guano, which will give it a more permanent effect upon the soil, and at the same time maintain a high and sufficient fertilizing activity." In addition potash is also found in the guano, and in quantity nearly equal to the average in Peruvian. The due consideration of these and its other natural advantages, justifies the opinion that the real agricultural value of Elide Guano approaches that of the Peruvian, and may be rated in higher terms than would be deducted in the usual way of estimating the money value of that article, chiefly from the content of ammonia. Gentlemen in Virginia and North Carolina, who have used the Elide Island Guano, speak in high terms of it.

MRS. KNOX & BRO. are the Agents for the sale of the Guano in this city, and Farmers who intend using it can be furnished with samples and full descriptions, by applying to them, Aug 13—1t

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.—From rich and poor, bond and free; all colors, grades, and conditions of life, we hear the same word of praise awarded this wonderful article. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals cured, and the aged are assisted by this great medicine, which are so assuring to the judgment of man. What family does not require a standard LINIMENT? Who never heard of the same effects produced by any other article? For Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, rheumatism, Swellings, Strained Horses, &c, it has no equal. Beware of imitations. The genuine MUSTANG LINIMENT is sold by all respectable Druggists and Livestock Men in every State, parish, and hamlet throughout North and South America, Europe, and the Islands of the Ocean. GUANO FERTILIZER.—FLUIDE ISLAND GUANO.—This fertilizer has only been introduced into use by the farmers in this country, within a very short time, but all who have used it pronounce it very valuable, possessing qualities far superior to those of Peruvian. By analysis it is found to contain of ammonia 9.20 per cent., bone phosphate 1.10 per cent., bone phosphate of magnesia 3.20, potash 2.30, Soda 7.40, sulphate of lime 35. Mr. Campbell Morris, distinguished Chemist of New York, thus describes it: "The Guano from 'Elide Island,' near the Gulf of California, resembles in general character the Peruvian, but has a distinctive feature in its greater uniformity of composition. While its proportion of ammonia is several per cent. below the average guano of Peru, guano, it contains a higher ratio of phosphoric acid. This difference in the two guanos brings about that desirable relation between these prime components of the Elide guano, which will give it a more permanent effect upon the soil, and at the same time secure a high and sufficient fertilizing agency. It is of a fine color, always readily accessible and in quantity nearly equal to the average in Peruvian guano. The due consideration of these and its other natural advantages, justifies the opinion that the real agricultural value of Elide Guano approaches that of the Peruvian, and may be rated in higher terms than Peruvian, be deduced in the usual manner, chiefly from its content of ammonia." Gentlemen in Virginia and South Carolina, who have used the Elide Island Guano, speak in high terms of it. Messrs. KNOX & BRO. are the Agents for the sale of the Guano in this city, and Farmers who intend using it can be furnished with samples and full descriptions, by applying to them, aug 13—1t

young men and youth in the city of Alexandria, Va. The number of students continues, as in former years, to be limited to as many only as can receive the minute attention of the Principal,
and from almost every section of the Princedom, the social and moral advantages of a family, with the classification and discipline of
a school.
The Principal brings to his assistance, in the result of his profession, the experience of more than twenty years, during which time he has been engaged in the instruction of young men, and has been able to combine, as far as practicable, the social and moral advantages of a family, with the classification and discipline of
a school.
It is the practice of the Principal to devote
to the government and instruction of the students, as much personal attention as is consistent with his other duties, yet he spares no pains
in the selection of those whom he calls to assist in the school, they being gentlemen of liberal education, and of known fitness for their profession.
Students may prepare themselves at this school for entering any class in College, or for an active business of life. Especial attention is given to the study of Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, and the Mathematics, as well as book-keeping, and the ordinary English languages.
Mineralogy, Geology, and the application of chemistry to the arts are taught by the aid of systematically arranged Cabinets, and are made part of the regular course on Civil Engineering. Within the past few years very large advances have been made to the Cabinet of Natural History, making it in the department of mineralogy particularly, compare favorably with other private collections in the Southern States.
A number of important improvements, both the School and dwelling, have recently been made, such as the erection of an Astronomical observatory, the enlargement of the Laboratory of ventilating apparatus &c., all of which are intended to contribute to the physical, intellectual and moral well being of the students.

FARM FOR SALE.—This Farm is situated in Spotsylvania, 7 miles from the City, near Guiney's Depot, and 19 from Fredericksburg. It contains over 800 ACRES more or less, and the balance in oak and pine. The soil is moderately undulating, is well watered, and as productive as any land in this section. There being much improvement, it affords a mild climate, and a culture of Tobacco.

The improvements are excellent and extensive. The DWELLING is neat and comfortable, having eight rooms, with fire place and a dry cellar. There is another framed HOUSE, with two rooms, passage, and chamber. The out-buildings are good, embracing every house usual around such a plantation. There are also houses for curing 12,000 to 15,000 lbs. Tobacco.

The situation combines the advantages of health, good society, good roads, convenience to post office, churches, mills, wheelwright and blacksmith shops.

To anyone wishing to purchase a desirable estate, in a healthy and pleasant neighborhood, and who desire a fine home, this place is undoubtedly worthy of consideration.—It is $12 per acre, less by several dollars than could be willing to take if it suited me to reside in the country. The improvements are more than half the sum asked for the same.

Terms.—One quarter cash; the balance in 1, 2 and 3 years. Deed of trust and insurance on buildings to secure the deferred payments.
